

Business-Integrated Technology Solutions

Innovate, collaborate and grow with SOA

SOA (Service Oriented Architecture) can deliver unprecedented flexibility and responsiveness to your IT environment. Standardize, automate and integrate your business processes using reusable, modular components based on open standards and best practises. SOA makes it possible to quickly and easily reorganize existing IT components to complement evolving business strategies.

Let SIA help you get the most out of your people, processes and information with a business-integrated technology solution – affordable solutions that deliver rapid results, powered by IBM middleware, SIA's strategic framework for SOA and our innovative ExpressWay® approach.

Let SIA make you special

In today's on demand world, innovation is the only answer for driving growth while cutting costs. The companies that succeed will be those who achieve organizational effectiveness through the integration of people, processes and information.

Unlocking business value can be challenging for organizations that have complex, inflexible or heterogeneous IT environments. SIA can help you innovate, collaborate and grow with business-integrated technology solutions, powered by IBM middleware and systems, that align your business and IT objectives so you can:

- » Revitalize your business
- » Exploit your capabilities
- » Strengthen your customer connections
- » Secure your enterprise
- » Transform your workforce
- » Manage your operations

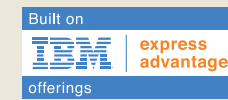

Our industry knowledge, technical expertise, business process management skills and innovative ExpressWay® methodology can help you lower your total cost of ownership, reduce your risks and accelerate results. Call us for an executive solution assessment, one of our many Quickstart offerings or a solution customized to your needs.

Think big, start simple and scale fast with innovative solutions from SIA...powered by IBM®.
